Barbara Jill Bates:

Ms. Bates is opposed to any increase in rail traffic in this area. She feels there is already too much traffic; she is often awakened by the sound of the trains. She has experienced back up because of slow moving trains. She is concerned about the hazardous wastes that might be transported. She is worried about the lessening of air quality because of train exhaust.

She has noticed that drivers delayed or stopped by the trains often elect to drive through residential areas at excessive speeds. Children play in the streets because of there being no sidewalks in this neighborhood. This concern would be increased with the accompanying increase in the number of daytime freight trains.
